Store Page

Store page contains mainly four parts: top bar, swiper, community recommend and game list.
Top Bar

There are three elements in top bar, which are the name of our website, search bar, and the login button.

The search bar allows user to search games by typing the related phrases and clicking the search button on the right. The result will be showed in a new page which contains all related games in our game database.

The login button allows user to click and login our website. Clicking this button will redirect to a new page of login, user can then login in that page.

After logged in, the avatar and name of user can be shown on the top bar, user can enter his user page by clicking his avatar or user name.

Swiper

This is a swiper which can show the recommended game. The arrow shaped buttons on left and right side can lead the swiper to show different picture of games. Each picture can be clicked and user can enter the game page of that very game to look for details. The points below shows the position of current picture among all pictures. These points can also be clicked so that the swiper will switch to corresponding picture.

Community Recommend

The community recommend part show users some of our selected comment for some game, with the related pictures, comment main body, author and grade. User can click the like button or dislike button show the opinions of that comment. User can also click the "more" button for details.
Game List

The game list contains all games in our game database. It will not be loaded along with the store page, in case that too many of games in our game database might overwhelm the store page and slow everything down. After the store page is showed, if user scroll down the page, a certain number of games will be added to the game page with corresponding picture, name and brief description. User can keep scrolling for more games. User can click in each of them to enter the corresponding game page for details.

User Page

User page shows all information of a user. There are three kinds of users, which are ordinary users, game developers, and administrator.

Ordinary Users

Ordinary users can check and edit their informations in the User Info block, in which the informations about username, birthday, gender, role and description are shown. User can edit the informations by clicking the Modify button below and change the informations, after that, clicking the Submit button will save the changes and send them to the server.

The block on the middle shows the avatar of the user. User can change their avatar by clicking their avatars and upload a picture from local.

The block on the right shows the balance that account has. User can recharge the balance by clicking the recharge button and input the password and number of account in the popup window.

My Game subfield, user can find all their available DLCs in that subfield.

The buttons on the left of the page shows the options that user can make for that account.

Friend button can pop up a window which shows the list of friends of current account.

Messages can lead to a new page which shows the messages friends left for user.

Password can pop up a window that allows user to change the password by typing old password and new password.

Email can pop up a window which allows user to confirm their emails for that account.

Game Developers

The main difference for developers from ordinary users are that there is a Developer button on the sidebar. Clicking that button will lead to a new page that allows user to modify their games, which includes adding/deleting games, adding new videos/pictures for a game, add DLCs, Branches, tags and changing price.

In order to simplify the option of discount, we set an option to developers which allows them to set discount level and time for each game.
